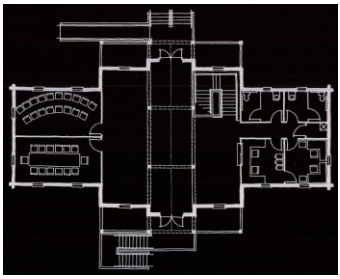
PROJECT DESCRIPTION

This 2,740 SF county park interpretive center includes a two-story exhibit space, meeting room, classroom, offices and public toilet rooms. All of the materials for the building were acquired through a bid process through a county purchasing department, while the construction was performed by a native American vocational training program. The facility has become the central office for a 400 acre county park that abuts forever wild state owned lands.



PARTICIPATION

All design and drawings were prepared by David Strabel independently which included design-grams and a full bid set of construct-grams complete with site work, mechanical and electrical drawings, including material quantity take-offs for every item needed in the construction.
